R.C.M.P. Police Service Dogs

Force's Famed 4-Footed Cops

Every year scores of lost children from coast to coast are miraculously returned to their families through the skill and daring of the nimblest, most intrepid cops in the world: the RCMP's famous Police Service Dogs. The dogs, sleek German Shepherds, are stationed in 17 centres across Canada and are driven or flown wherever need arises. Fearless in pursuit of dangerous criminals, the dogs will drag a lost child to safety with surprising gentleness. Above, Major of the Newfoundland detachment signals to searchers that he has found the missing boy.

Dogs combine high intelligence with rugged strength, great courage; are called out on approximately 1,000 assignments annually. Tracking down criminals accounts for about 16% of their work and searching for lost persons another 20%. The rest of their work involves search for lost articles, sniffing out illegal moonshiners' stills. Above, Major shows his prowess in scaling walls; portraits of Bruce, Caesar and Prince; dog tracking is 11-year-old Alex

Each dog serves about 9 years with the Force and during that time it obeys and is handled by one dog master who is a trained member of the RCMP and a volunteer for this type of duty. The dog is taught, groomed, exercised and fed by his master and they operate as a team. Dogs are bred and trained at the Mounties' division at Sydney, Nova Scotia. Each dog and his master must undergo annual refresher courses.

COLOR SURPRISE In a holiday dream of white cotton lace with Christmas-red appliques, a satin band suggests the high valetot look of the season. A Canadian fabric used in an elegant design by one of the better Montreal houses.

MARATHON HOOP WINNER—This is hula-hoop champ Valerie Sprout, of Qu'Appelle, stayed by one staff photographer in a pose she held for five hours and 18 minutes at the hoop marathon in Regina recently. So far as is known, this is a Western Canada record.

KNOWN AS MAJOR DISEASE Tuberculosis has been known as a major disease of mankind as far back as there are written records. It was not until 1883 that Robert Koch, a German doctor found the germ that caused TB.

School means better roads for Manitoba

School days are returning for some 21 provincial road inspectors this winter, all for the sake of better highways.

Public works minister Hon. Eric Wells said the men—representing one-quarter of the inspectors needed for the coming road-construction season—were being trained at the province's highways testing laboratory because "better inspection means better roads".

The training program, Premier Duff Roblin added, was part of a whole schedule of "in-service" training being established by the province to make the best possible use of existing staff. "It should pay big dividends in staff morale and in results for the public."

Mr. Wells said the road inspectors are required to interpret communications with respect to all materials used in highway construction and methods of road-building. Their winter training will include instruction in soil, asphalt and concrete testing and techniques, the principles of testing and their relation to construction procedures.

The minister described the program as a major investment for improved roads. The trained inspectors will be allocated three to each of the seven road districts in the province, and they in turn will supervise the work of class inspectors under them.

In addition, refresher courses for the younger engineers will be held to deal with specifications and latest construction techniques.

Nine thousand Canadians who are healthy today will have tuberculosis a year from now.
